STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE (Include Personages, Dates, Events, Etc.)

Although Burwell-Morgan Mill is significant because of its complete restoration as a working mill, its greater value comes from historical associations.

The mill was built circa 1785 by Colonel Nathaniel Burwell (1750-1814) and General Daniel Morgan (1736-1802) who saw the advantage of the fall in Spout Run on property belonging to Colonel Burwell as being a potential mill site. Colonel Burwell was a man of prominence in the Virginia of his day. Born at Carter's Grove in James City County, the home he was later to inherit, Burwell also inherited land around Millwood in present-day Clarke County. Burwell, a man of substance and wide-spread business interests, began to develop his Clarke County holdings after the American Revolution. Although still operating from Carter's Grove, he began to spend more and more time around Millwood and, seeing the financial rewards possible from a mill in the area, entered into a partnership with General Morgan, Indian fighter, Revolutionary War soldier and hero of the battles of Saratoga and Cowpens, to build and manage a mill.

With the establishment of the mill, Burwell began to expand his operations in the vicinity. In 1786 he built himself a house in which he lived from time to time until the completion of nearby Carter Hall which he started in 1792 and finished in 1800. By 1804, tiring of the impoverished land in Tidewater, Burwell turned over Carter's Grove to his son, Carter Burwell, and took up permanent residence in Clarke County. In the crossroads of Millwood he built a tanyard, a tanner's house, another mill and evertually a distillery, also in partnership with General Morgan who lived at Saratoga a mile west of the village.

At Burwell's death in 1814 the mill went along with his other property into the hands of his trustees and the estate was not settled until 1828. At that time the mill and six acres were valued at $10,000 and were left to Dr. Philip G. Randolph and Miss Lucy B. Randolph. In 1829 Dr. Randolph exchanged his half-interest with Miss Susan G. Randolph. In 1837 Reverend E. C. Hutchinson and Lucy B. Randolph, his wife, sold her half-interest to John Louthan for $3500. In 1848 Louthan acquired the other half of the property from Susan G. Randolph, wife of Dr. R. P. Page. In 1855 Louthan sold the mill and less than one acre to Alfred Parkins for $9500 who rented the property for some years. In 1872 the mill was sold to T. M. Eddy and A. H. Garvin who later became sole owner and added the additional story of wood
