7. Summary and Site

Bluemont Church and cemetery occupy 2.0 acres on the south side of the Blue Ridge Parkway, which is a unit of the National Park Service, and just to the east Willis Gap. The land surrounding the church and cemetery is owned by the Park Service. The church is in northern Patrick County, within a few hundred feet of the Carroll County line, which follows the parkway through the immediate vicinity of the church. Between the church and the parkway is a split-rail fence. The cemetery begins immediately southwest of the church.

Description

Bluemont Church is a small edifice sited on the south side of the Blue Ridge Parkway, with its rear elevation facing toward the parkway. Besides its natural quartz and quartzite stone facing, the main character element of the church is the Gothic styled bell tower on it north (rear) elevation. The tower is semi-hexagonal, with three sides facing outward and a back side, and has triangular-headed louvered openings on the three outward sides. It has no other openings. The church is entered from the south elevation, through a shallow, gable-roof entrance portico, and a vestibule appendage that is neither as tall or as wide as the sanctuary. The portico, vestibule and sanctuary all have front-gable roofs covered with new, brown-colored asphalt shingles. The church has a total of six windows—three tall, triangular-headed, stained-glass windows on each long side of the sanctuary. Between the windows and at both ends of the long elevations are shallow stone buttresses that tapered inward toward the top, terminating near the top of the walls. The interior of the church has a nave plan with pews facing the rear of the church, is plainly decorated, and has sheetrock walls and ceiling, painted white. A white marble cornerstone reads, "Bluemont Presbyterian Church, 1919."

Situated to the southwest of the church is the church cemetery of perhaps one hundred graves with mostly modern, granite markers. Bluemont Cemetery is perhaps the most impressive of the Rock Churches, with a large number of closely-spaced, robust, ashlar masonry pillars and heavy, painted steel chains between them. The cemetery is nearly as old as the church and thus is considered a contributing site for the purposes of this nomination.

8. Statement of Significance

Summary and Justification

Bluemont Presbyterian Church is one of the six Childress rock-faced churches located in the Virginia counties of Floyd, Carroll, and Patrick, built between 1919 and the early 1950s by Presbyterian minister Robert W. Childress. The six churches are significant in their embodiment of Appalachian patterns of Presbyterian religious worship and Presbyterian social activism in western Virginia. The churches also tell the story of the remarkable ministry of Robert W. Childress, who brought spiritual faith and social awakening to the people of the central portion of the Blue Ridge Province in Virginia. As such, Bluemont Church is significant under Criterion A in the areas of Religion and Social History, and under Criterion C for its unique architecture. The period of significance is from 1919, the year of its construction, to 1956, the year of Robert Childress's death.

Historical Background

Bluemont Presbyterian, on the border between Patrick and Carroll Counties, was built in 1919 eight miles southwest of Buffalo Mountain and rock-faced in 1946 shortly after Bob Childress assumed the pastorate there at the close of World War II. Rev. Roy Smith, Childress's mentor by 1919, preached the first Presbyterian sermons near Bluemont at Pilot View and Rome School houses beginning in 1915. In 1918 the Abingdon Presbytery promised $500 for a church building, provided that worshipers would raise an equal amount. The wood-frame Bluemont Presbyterian Church was ready for use in the spring of 1920, and the church was organized in September 1920 with G. E. Willis as elder and James A. Vass as deacon. Granville "Ernest" Willis owned the first automobile in the region and traveled to Presbytery sessions in southwest Virginia and to Richmond to represent Bluemont. Ernest Willis's daughter Polly Willis, later Polly Willis Cock, and Vida Bowman taught Sunday school at Bluemont when Bob Childress became pastor in 1945.

Polly Willis Cock remembers when Bob Childress approached her father, Elder Ernest Willis, about rock-facing Bluemont. Childress asked the Sunday school teachers Polly Willis and Vida Bowman to write letters to church members to solicit funds for the project. In September 1945 Childress wrote Polly Willis and Vida Bowman that he was beginning to receive pledges. The Section 8 Page 3

next month Childress thanked both women for their funding efforts to rock-face Bluemont, pledged $100 of his own to each of their subscription lists, and closed with the following:

Please make it plain to those approached, that we expect to finish regardless of what they give but that you want them to have a part in it for their own sakes as well as for the cause. Let them also know that those who desire to work can work out their pledges and we expect to begin hauling stones within a few days, weeks at most. We will need a lot of helpers for that.

Vida Bowman remembers that when her husband came home from World War II in December 1945, he began helping haul fieldstones to Bluemont. He collected field rock from Ed Gardner's place. Cecil Cock, who married Polly Willis two years later, brought one of his favorite quartz rocks and still remembers its placement in the Bluemont stone facing.

Bluemont Church received a scenic easement with the Blue Ridge Parkway in October 1937, which stipulated that church buildings could not be erected or altered without Park Services consent and approval. Polly Willis Cock remembers that several times a Park ranger would ask Childress to stop the alterations at Bluemont. Childress would tell the workers to stop, but then would have them resume as soon as the ranger left. Polly remembers Childress saying, "I don't care what they say, we will finish rocking this church even if we have to work on it at midnight." In disregard of the Park Service scenic easement, Bluemont Church was rock-faced in 1946 under the supervision of Sam Branscome, who had learned rock laying in Tennesee.

During the ten years of his pastorate at Bluemont, Bob Childress installed a Delco Battery System that provided electric lights and public address system with outside speakers that broadcast music and church services for several miles. He also employed perhaps the first use of church busses in the area to transport children to Sunday school and vacation Bible school.<sup>1</sup>

Endnote

1. This information on the Childress pastorate at Bluemont is drawn from Randle Brim, Simple Pleasures, July 2004. Brim has made excellent use of primary source interviews he conducted with Polly Willis Cock and Vida Bowman. The two women have retained personal letters from Rev. Childress and are grateful that he encouraged their leadership in the church. Brim also reported that Childress invited the choir from Clark's Creek Primitive Baptist Church, a black congregation, to sing at Bluemont and another of the Childress churches. ## 10. Geographical Data

Verbal Boundary Description

The boundary of the nominated parcel includes only the church and cemetery and the immediate grounds around them, as shown on the accompanying GIS-produced aerial image. The following UTM points designate the boundary polygon as it is being nominated: 1. 17 538086 4056857 2. 17 538150 4056849 3. 17 538132 4056714 4. 17 538058 4056742

Boundary Justification

The nominated boundary corresponds exactly to that of the original church and cemetery parcel.
