Join us at the Lyceum in Alexandria for a one-day conference to provide networking opportunities and tools to help build capacity and strengthen organizations preserving African American historic sites in Virginia.

Building on the success of past programs focused on advocating for African American historic resources, including schools (Rosenwald-funded and otherwise) and cemeteries; this one-day conference will offer practical information on advocacy, documentation and funding tools to preserve historic sites.

General admission is $60 (coffee and lunch included). For maps and parking information:
